BUS CHANGE BEFORE CROMPTON MEETING

Trackless Trolley Plans in Richmond Revised Two Months Earlier.

SHEARN ADMITS FACT

Cosgrove Adds Absolution of
Would-Be Agent for Atlas Concern.

In yesterday's session of the Transit Commission's bus investigation Clarence J. Shearn, counsel to the commission, admitted that the changes made in specifications for Staten Island's trackless trolley buses were made months before the full attempt of William R. Crompton to have himself appointed sales agent for the Atlas Truck Corporation.
Certain testimony taken last week in which the witnesses, as it afterward appeared, had mixed their dates, led Mr.
Shearn to assume a significant connection between Mr. Crompton's failure to get the Atlas company's New York territory as sales agent at $10,000 a year and the change of specifications by Commissioner Whalen's Department of Plant and Structures, which change seriously handicapped the Atlas company in competing for the building of additional buses for the city after it had supplied seven vehicles for operation in Staten Island.

Allan R. Cosgrove, vice-president and general manager of the Atlas concern, who testified yesterday, made it clear that his meeting with Crompton was on May 11, 1922, while the revised specifications for the new trackless trolley buses, on which competitive bids were to be based, were made more than two months earlier than that date.

Mr. Shearn Explains.
"In fairness to Mr. Crompton," said Mr. Shearn, "it will state that it now does not appear that the specifications were changed because Crompton was not retained as New York salesman at $10,000 a year by the Atlas company."

Mr. Cosgrove absolved Crompton from any responsibility in bringing about the change in specifications. The witness testified, however, that Crompton had shown him a photograph of himself marching at the head of the Tammany Society's Liberty Day parade between Mayor Hylan and Charles F. Murphy as an indication of "how I stand politically in New York." This interview occurred in York, Pa., where the corporation's factory is located.

After radical changes had been made in the specifications the contract was awarded to the Trackless Trolley Corporation of New York, the Atlas concern being the only other bidder.

Mr. Cosgrove observed that a reluctant witness, but he protested against Mr.
Shearn's assumption that he had come from York "to whitewash the Department of Plant and Structures" and declared that all his dealings with the city had been honorable and open and above board. The witness said the change in length of wheel base and other radical alterations in the bus specifications had been made under the advice of Prof. Morton Arendt, of the department of electrical engineering of Columbia University, who had been retained as an expert by the City Department of Plant and Structures.

Report Read Into Record.

Prof. Arendt's report to Commissioner Whalen that the changes made would compel the Atlas corporation to discard their chassis patterns and would prevent their concern making sixty-day deliveries was read into the record. The Columbia expert admitted that from sixty to seventy material alterations were made in the specifications, but he denied emphatically that they had been prompted by an intent to defame the Trackless Trolley Corporation of New York.

The investigation will be resumed this morning, when Mr. Shearn is expected to call to the stand certain officers of the successful bidding company, the Trackless Trolley Corporation of New York.

CHARTER SPLIT WIDENS.

The Charter Revision Commission met in executive session yesterday, with Comptroller Craig and the other members of the advisory administration absent.
Mr. Craig has promised to hold meetings of the commission minority in City Hall and submit his "hitch back" charter to public discussion. The majority group has decided to use F. W. M. Cushman's draft as a working basis for a new charter.

Fine Gift, Not Bomb, in Milady's Package

A WELL-dressed young woman, who said she was a guest at the Hotel Astor but who did not disclose her name, went to the West Forty-seventh street station last night and laid a small wooden box on the desk before Lieut. Nulty.

"I'm afraid of it," she said. "It came to me through the mail." Lieut. Nulty moved nervously in his chair. "Better notify the Bureau of Combustibles," he remarked.

"No," protested the woman. "I want to find out what's in it immediately. I have been receiving many strange packages through the mails of late. Some of them contained live snakes and rats." The task of opening the box was imposed upon Patrolman John Solari. He took it to the back yard and worked at the lid with a screwdriver. The expected explosion did not follow, and Solari delivered into a mass of tissue paper and drew forth a costly vase of silver and glass.

The woman took the vase, thanked the police and left the station house.

WOULD FERRY CARS TO OUTWIT WHALEN

Receivers Devise Plan to Get Long Island City Stock Past Gap in Track.

Slaughter W. Huff and Robert C. Lee, receivers of the Steinway lines of the New York and Queens County Railway, announced last night that they have found a way to transfer cars from the Third Avenue line to Long Island City, in spite of the objections of Grover A.
Whalen, Commissioner of Plant and Structures. The receivers were taking the cars from Manhattan across the Queensboro Bridge to replace the worn-out equipment in Long Island City when Mr. Whalen removed the tracks over which they were being transferred at Fifty-ninth street and Second Avenue.
The receivers have arranged with a contracting company to lift the trolley cars from a dock in Manhattan, place them on floats and carry them to the dock and the New York and Queens Electric Light & Power Company in Astoria.
A spur track will be run from this dock to the lines of the trolley company in Long Island City. The cars are of the "90" type in use on the Third Avenue Railroad.

Commissioner Whalen removed the tracks at Fifty-ninth street and Second Avenue on the day after Mr. Huff and Mr. Lee, as receivers for the trolley company, obtained an injunction restraining him from running buses in their Long Island City territory.

RADIO SHOW 'A. W. O. L.' SEARCHERS DISCOVER

Was Billed for Last Night in Madison Square Garden.

The Radio Show which was supposed to open at Madison Square Garden last night, and which was billed for the show, was not held. The show was supposed to be a radio show, but the receivers who went to search for it, the Garden was dark and the doors were locked, and a policeman said that several hundred persons had been there inquiring for the show.

A clerk in the Madison Square tower finally was awakened and said that the show had been transferred to the Grand Central Palace in Lexington Avenue.
But at the Palace the Hotel Men's Convention was in full swing, and there was not a radio show anywhere in the building. Later, however, attaches of the Palace discovered that a radio show had booked space for December 22, but they did not know if this was the show advertised to open last night.

MRS. GIBERSON LOSES POINT.

THURSDAY, N. J., Nov. 20.—Chancellor Walker today denied the application of counsel for Mrs. Ivy Giberson, convicted of killing her husband at their home in Lakehurst last August, for a writ of error in a move to upset her conviction and sentence to life imprisonment. Her counsel will appeal.

REPUBLICAN FUNDS MISUSED, IS CHARGE

State Committee Will Demand Accounting From Up-State County Chairmen.

NOT SPENT FOR MILLER

'Voters Simply Crazy Minded,' Ward's Explanation of Defeat.

The Republican State Committee, it was learned yesterday, will demand from its up-State county chairmen an immediate accounting of the funds distributed before election to reelect Gov.
Miller. The committee has good information—in some cases direct evidence—that some of this money was not spent at all.

A conference of party leaders was held yesterday at State headquarters in West Thirty-ninth street. The first question to be considered was, Where did the money go? According to one of the biggest men in the State organization the cost of Miller's campaign was equal to that of any Presidential campaign. The county leaders, he said, got whatever they asked. On election day alone as much as $125 for single election districts was sent up State to get the vote out.

Each county chairman will be obliged to submit an itemized expense account showing how every dollar was used.
The money was for printing, bill posting, notices, automobiles, music, fireworks, etc., all legitimate campaign expenses, and some of it appears never to have gone any further than the pockets of local bosses.

After expense statements are filed, certain up-State leaders will be asked to appear before the committee and explain things in person. It is quite probable, it was said, if misappropriation of funds can be proved that several well known county leaders will be publicly exposed. In that case the State organization will inform the county organization that it will withdraw its support until a new chairman is chosen.

Calls Voters 'Crazy Minded.'

At yesterday's conference were George K. Morris, State chairman; William L. Ward, Senator James W.
Wadsworth Jr., who has been mentioned as the new Republican leader in New York State; Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Assistant Secretary of the Navy; Charles D. Hilles, national committee man; Richard W. Lawrence, Bronx county leader, and Col. Lafayette B. Gleason, secretary of the State Committee.

Henry D. Curran, Republican candidate for Mayor in 1921, dropped in, but said he came to see Senator Wadsworth, who was his classmate at college, and for no political purpose.

After the conference Mr. Morris said:
"There has been no talk of reorganization, except in the newspapers. Just now we are trying to find out where we are at and to get our feet on the ground again. There is nothing in the rumor that my business is going to prevent me from continuing to be State chairman."

Mr. Ward said: "The talk about 'punishing' anybody is all nonsense. The State Committee cannot go into a county and fire the local chairman. The Democratic success was statewide, not only statewide but nationwide. It extended to every locality. The trouble is the voters were crazy minded."

Party on Its Way Up.

"They wanted license," Mr. Ward continued. "They voted for license and they had no use for a man like Miller, who stood for law and order. There is no reason to be unhappy over this election, however. From now on the party is on its way up. The other fellow has the responsibility."

Senator Wadsworth said: "Smith will have to make good, if he can, on his campaign promises, which will be a tough job. We will all profit by the mistakes of the other side."

Secretary Roosevelt was asked about President Harding and Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinson, his aunt, on probi-tion and gave a typical Roosevelt answer:

"I haven't asked the President," he said. "I haven't asked Mrs. Robinson either. I am in the happy position of not knowing anything about it."

STEAMER SPLIT IN TWO; SEVENTY ARE DROWNED

CALEXICO, CAL., Nov. 20.—Seventy persons lost their lives in the sinking of the steamer Topolobampo in the Gulf of California yesterday. Twenty-four survivors, including nine women and six children are on their way to Mexico. Lower California. The Topolobampo, a craft of thirty-six tons displacement went down when broken in two in the middle by a wall of water twenty feet high which followed the tide from the river.

A greater part of the lost are believed to have been women and children.

The Cost of Administering Your Estate

"I WOULD make a bank the executor of my will, if it did not cost so much. The fees must be pretty big to enable a bank to maintain an organization of experts." If you ever hear this familiar statement made when men are discussing executors and wills, you may inform the speaker that a national bank can execute a will more economically than an individual could possibly execute it, for several reasons:

- [1] The fees allowed by law are the same for all executors, bank or individual —in New York State, 5% for amounts up to $1,000, 2½% for an additional $10,000 and 1% on everything above $11,000.
- [2] An individual executor would (unless you specifically relieve him) have to furnish a bond, the cost being paid by your estate. A bank does not have to supply a bond, its resources constituting sufficient guarantee in the view of the law.
- [3] The Trust Department of a bank, consisting of men who are expert in every detail of administering estates, acts in innumerable details without involving expense which an individual executor would incur.

The American Exchange National Bank, through its Trust Department, is equipped to administer the provisions of your will in the best professional manner—economically, speedily, expertly. Of course, a lawyer must draw your will, but we will welcome the opportunity to discuss its subject matter with you.

The Whats and What Nots of Massage

THE value of a face massage is in the scientific manipulation of the facial muscles, and not in the vandal vigor of the operator's hands!
There should be more rotating than rubbing, more persuasion than pugnacity. It should be plastic, not fistic. Every Terminal barber knows this from his course of study in the Terminal Post-Graduate School, and the massage he gives you will produce, not the burning sensation of irreverent rubbing, but the healthful glow of a tonic. Try one!
